Ships of the world : Akogare

With the cooperation of Sail Osaka

● Akogare : built in 1993; 362 tons; three masts; topsail schooner; 52.16 m total length; Japan

The Akogare was built in 1993 as a training vessel for use by the city of Osaka in international marine training. Since 1994, it has been used in sailing training programs open to all participants aged 10 years and above. In addition to training professional sailors and educating young people in general, it also is used for purposes such as corporate training. In 2000, it was the first Japanese vessel to circle the world by traveling eastward passing through Europe.
